FOR THE DISTRICT OF SOUTH CAROLINA

vs.	)	REPORT OF MAGISTRATE JUDGE
	)
Capt. Harold Crocker, et al.,	)

Defendants.	)

The plaintiff, proceeding pro se, brought this action seeking relief pursuant to Title 42, United States Code, Section 1983. Pursuant to the provisions of Title 28, United States Code, Section 636(b)(1)(B), and Local Rule 73.02(B)(2)(d), D.S.C., this magistrate judge is authorized to review all pretrial matters in cases filed under Title 42, United States Code, Section 1983, and submit findings and recommendations to the District Court.

On October 18, 2010, the defendants filed a motion for summary judgment. On October 19, 2010, pursuant to Roseboro v. Garrison, 528 F.2d 309 (4th Cir. 1975), the plaintiff was advised of the summary judgment procedure and the possible consequences if he failed to respond adequately. On October 25, 2010, the envelope containing the Roseboro order was returned to the Clerk of Court indicating that the plaintiff had been released from the Cherokee County Detention Center.<sup>1</sup> The Clerk subsequently noted that there was a new service address for the plaintiff on the certificate of service filed by the defendants on October 19, 2010 (doc. 26) and remailed the Roseboro order to the new address on October 25, 2010. The plaintiff's response to the motion was due on November 29, 2010.

When he failed to file a response, the court entered an order on December 15, 2010, giving him through January 10, 2011, to respond and advising him that if he failed to respond, this action would be dismissed for failure to prosecute. The plaintiff elected not to respond.

A complaint may be dismissed pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b) for failure to prosecute and/or failure to comply with orders of the court. Ballard v. Carlson, 882 F.2d 93, 95 (4th Cir.1989), cert. denied, 493 U.S. 1084 (1990). In considering whether to dismiss an action pursuant to Rule 41(b), the court is required to consider four factors:

- (1) the degree personal responsibility on the part of the plaintiff;
- (2) the amount of prejudice to the defendant caused by the delay;
- (3) the history of the plaintiff in proceeding in a dilatory manner;
and,
- (4) the existence of less drastic sanctions other than dismissal.

Davis v. Williams, 588 F.2d 69, 70 (4th Cir.1978).

In the present case, the plaintiff is proceeding pro se, and he is thus entirely responsible for his actions. It is solely through the plaintiff's neglect, and not that of an attorney, that no responses have been filed. Meanwhile, the defendants are left to wonder when the action against them will be resolved. The plaintiff has not responded to the defendants' motion for summary judgment or the court's orders requiring him to respond. Accordingly, the undersigned concludes the plaintiff has abandoned his lawsuit. No other reasonable sanctions are available.

Based on the foregoing, it appears the plaintiff no longer wishes to pursue this action. Accordingly, it is recommended that this action be dismissed for lack of prosecution pursuant to Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Ballard v. Carlson, 882 F.2d 93 (4th Cir. 1989), cert. denied, 493 U.S. 1084 (1990).
